SENSORY GUIDE: The Giant Heart

THINGS FOR KIDS TO KNOW:

Giant Heart: There are steps in the heart and you will hear the heart beating and the Hint: Sometimes the heart can feel a little small. I will need to go up and down a series of stairs, but I will be able to look out of the top of the heart and exit through the bottom.

Surgical Theater: The video here is really interesting but can be a little gross.
Hint: If it makes you uneasy to see the inside of a human body, you may want to avoid this video.

Exercise Opera Bikes: This display requires you to be active in order to make it work.
Hint: pedal faster on the stationary bicycles to make the video play!

Blood: Weight vs Volume: This will show you how much blood is in your body. Stand on the metal plate and push the button.
Hint: This blood is not real; it just simulates the blood in your body.

Heart Attack: This simulates how you can use a tool to save someone from a heart attack.
Hint: If you want to you can use the buttons to create an electrical shock that restarts a person's heart.
